

SOUTH PARK LIGHTS – Drawing Template

Draw your image inside the three connected circles, below. You can use one, two, or three circles for your image. Think of your image in sections so each part is contained within one circle.

Use only black (no color, no shades of grey). The black will be where the light will pass through the gobos (disks for the projection) to cast the shapes on the wall. Thick lines and bold shapes work best.

The image will be cut out of metal to make the gobos, so think of it like a stencil. The shapes that make up the image cannot float inside other shapes without a little attachment.

Study the examples on this page to see how to set up your drawing.
